The funeral of Mr. McClay took place Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Braman started out on his order team Wednesday on runners. Not being able to tell whether he was coming or going on standing still, he went back and hitched to a wagon.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

The Woodstock Band.

The Woodstock band has been engaged for the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., May 14th to 17th, and will play for the parade, drills, etc. On this occasion it will appear in new uniforms and will have 22 pieces.

The band has also been engaged for the Memorial day exercises here. The band now numbers 16 local musicians and for Odd Fellows' week extra men will be engaged.

The band has had regular weekly practice all winter and is steadily improving under the leadership of C. O. Dumas. Money was raised by subscription last fall, and with this seven new instruments were bought, so that the band is now very well equipped. The organization is practically out of debt and begins the summer campaign with excellent prospects.

The band expects to give about a dozen outdoor concerts during the summer and with new and popular pieces lately purchased these programs may be looked forward to with much pleasure.

The Woodstock Dramatic club will in about a month present a play for the benefit of the band.

Y. M. C. A. Boy Scouts.

The scout work with local boys is progressing finely, quite a number of boys having passed the required tests for "tenderfoot" rank, and are engaged on "second class" work. The troop has four patrols. People who have read the Boy Scouts' or Scout Master Manuals find them most interesting and helpful books and a valuable addition to their library. Many booksellers in other communities have them on sale for the general public and it is hoped that some one will place them on sale here.

Small-pox at Dewey's Mills.

Little alarm is felt over the outbreak of small-pox at Dewey's Mills, as the seven cases reported to Dr. Stanley, chairman of the Hartford board of health, are all mild ones. One patient is under observation as a suspected case. Dr. F. T. Kidder, of the state board of health, went to Dewey's Mills Wednesday to look after quarantine arrangements, etc. The village has been quarantined and no one is allowed to go or come without a written permit.

The children who go to school at Quebec are to be kept at home for a time.

Two Canadians, brothers, recently went to a Canadian town to attend the funeral of a sister, being unaware of the presence of any small-pox cases there. One of them worked on a farm near Dewey's Mills and the other was employed at the mill. The latter contracted the disease, causing the present outbreak. The other brother and his family have left the vicinity and his house has been disinfected.

The patients known to have the disease were on Thursday transferred to a vacant house, which has been fitted up as an isolation hospital. The authorities feel that they have the situation well in hand and do not anticipate a spread of the epidemic.

Making Country Life More Satisfying.

Next Wednesday evening County Secretary A. C. Hurd will give an illustrated lecture on "Making Country Life More Satisfying," at the Arts and Crafts Club rooms at 7:30. All men and older boys invited. Mr. Hurd has been giving this lecture in various parts of the state during the past winter and has been asked to give it at the Y.M.C.A. convention on Saturday evening, April 20. After five years of study and research, and visitation to hundreds of farmers during the past year, he is well informed with regard to the improvement and progress being made in Windsor county. Some very interesting pictures will be shown.

Taft Delegates Elected.

Two hundred and thirty-four votes were cast at the Republican caucus for the election of delegates to the State and district conventions, held last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a large gathering of voters, in spite of bad traveling. Interest in the national ticket was unusually strong and much effort had been made to get the voters out, especially by the Roosevelt supporters.

Chairman F. S. Billings of the Republican town committee presided and J. E. Montague was chosen clerk.

Delegates to the state convention favorable to Roosevelt's presidential candidacy were placed in nomination by J. K. Hoadley, and Judge T. O. Seaver presented the Taft ticket, John S. Eaton replying briefly for the Roosevelt supporters.

It was voted, on motion of Mr. Eaton, that the state convention delegates elected should be made delegates to the second congressional district convention.

After some discussion it was voted to keep the ballot box open until 7 p. m., and the box was turned at that hour. The count of ballots resulted as follows:

For Taft, 121.
For Roosevelt, 113.

The delegates chosen are Col. F. S. Billings, Wm. H. Smith and Dr. F. T. Kidder.

WOODSTOCK NOTES.

The meteorological summary of the weather bureau at Northfield for the past month sustains the popular opinion that March was cold and worthy of much contempt. The mean temperature for the month was 22.2, which shows 4 degrees below normal. The highest temperature was 52 degrees on the 20th, and the lowest was 22 degrees below on the 6th. The total precipitation for the month was 2.49 inches, a deficiency of 1.30. The amount of snowfall during the month was 18.6 inches.

M. M. Sloss, secretary of the Morok Aeroplane company of New York city, was in town Friday trying to secure a contract for an exhibition at the county fair next fall. He looked the ground over and said it offered no obstacles to a successful show. The committee on special attractions is also in correspondence with Burgess Company & Curtis of Marblehead, Mass., who will send a man here next week.

Russell Kelly is at home from Dartmouth for the Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Slayton are at home from Florida, where they passed the winter months.

Hubert Canfield, from Phillips Exeter, is passing the Easter vacation at home. He is accompanied by Julius Schaezel, a school friend, of Pasadena, Cal., whose mother is also a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Canfield.

The Randolph Herald says:

Miss Mabel Hamilton, for nine years teacher of elocution in Montpelier seminary, has been elected to the position of preceptress by the board of trustees and has her acceptance now under consideration. She is the elder daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Hamilton, and is a graduate of the Emerson College of Oratory in Boston, where she has just been studying during this spring vacation. She arrived from Boston Monday, accompanied by Miss Violoria Peters, music teacher at the seminary, and both left here Tuesday morning for Montpelier to be in their respective places at the reopening of school. Promotion to the post of preceptress comes to Miss Hamilton in recognition of the value of her work at the seminary in the past and in appreciation of her ability to fill satisfactorily an office of much responsibility.

Caroline Brown Dana, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Dana, died at her home here on Thursday, of leptomeningitis, aged 19 years. She had been ill only about a week, though her health has not been good for several years. Carrie Dana will be missed by her many friends, possessed as she was of rare qualities of mind and heart which endeared her to all who knew her best. The funeral services will be held at the house this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The union services held at the Universalist, Congregational, Christian and Methodist Episcopal churches this week have been interesting and well attended. The service Thursday evening was held at the Christian church. At the close of the address by Rev. Benjamin Swift, on "Christian Fellowship," the four churches united in a communion service.

Local interest in the Taft-Roosevelt presidential race is surprising, and the closeness of the vote at the caucus Saturday was more food for talk, conversation and street corner discussion. The topic has invaded many homes; there are even divided households, and in these instances it generally turns out that the ladies are for Roosevelt, and would vote for him, if they had a chance.

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jaquith will be observed in the parlors of the Universalist church next Saturday afternoon, April 13, with a reception from three to six o'clock. All friends are cordially invited to attend.

Winter is slow in giving up its grip. Snow fell again Tuesday night—two or three inches of heavy, wet stuff that once more made a mess of streets and roads.

Mrs. Emily Dean, widow of Charles Dean, for many years a resident of Woodstock, died at her home at White River Junction Sunday evening, March 31, of heart failure. She was in her 71st year. She went to White River Junction about two years ago with her daughter Nellie, making her home with her other daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Cummings.

A meeting of the Mothers' League will be held next Wednesday evening, April 10, at the Arts and Crafts building, upper room, at 7:45 o'clock. The subject for discussion will be the adolescent period. All women who are interested in our growing boys and girls are invited to be present. A brief report of the recent national congress of mothers will be given. It is the custom to take a collection at these meetings to help defray the necessary expense.

Mrs. F. S. Atwood returned from Hanover hospital Tuesday.

Miss Hazen of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. W. Boyce.

Harold Mackenzie, who has been employed at the Inn several years, has given up his place there and has taken the local agency for the Union Pacific Tea company, buying E. A. Leggett's outfit for this purpose. Mr. and Mrs. Leggett move to Rutland this week. Edwin Cushing, also an employee at the Inn for some time, began work in the Central Market this week.

The body of Harold Parker formerly of this town, aged 18 years, was brought here last Monday from Worcester, Mass., where he died last Friday night of tuberculosis, after an illness of about a year. Rev. Benjamin Swift officiated at the burial service in Riverside cemetery. Harold Parker was a son of the late Fred Parker and Mary Harlow Parker, and lived in this village some eight years ago, when his father built the house on Maple street now owned by Mrs. William Moses. His brother, Clarence Parker, at that time learned the plumber's trade in E. F. Wardwell's shop and is now engaged in that business at White River Junction. The father died in Hartford about four years ago, of tuberculosis, and the young man has been living in Worcester with his mother, now Mrs. Walter Clark.

The Rev. H. A. Parkhurst of Bethel has received a call to the pastorate of the Universalist church, Springfield, which he will accept, and he will begin his new duties May 1, succeeding the Rev. J. B. Renford, who resigned recently to go to Barre. Mr. Parkhurst has been pastor in Bethel for the past four years.

H. P. CLARK

for Striking His Wife.

A criminal case was tried in Rutland county court Monday afternoon, after the case of Loren W. Estabrook of Sherburne against the town of Sherburne, had been settled out of court at the suggestion of Judge Zed S. Stanton. Estabrook, who was the plaintiff in the first action in which he sought to recover money he had expended for a town pauper, was the respondent in the criminal case and pleaded guilty to a charge of breach of the peace by way of assault. He was fined $25 and the cost of prosecution which he paid, the after-sentence being 33 days in the Rutland county jail.

State's Attorney E. L. Safford in prosecution of the criminal charge related the circumstances attendant to crime. He said that the respondent had cruelly beaten Mrs. Estabrook about the face on Dec. 31, 1911.

Mrs. Estabrook, according to the prosecution, was driving a team of horses owned by her husband on March 31 of last year. The team ran away with her and one of the horses sustained several injuries. When she returned to her home her husband was so enraged because of the runaway that he struck her in the face, blacking the eye and causing an eye glass to penetrate her cheek bone. According to the prosecution, the respondent had admitted choking Mrs. Estabrook on this occasion.

It sometimes seems as if the limits of the law were continually being extended to meet our growing business requirements.—Puck.
